EDITORIAL NOTES

The Buenos Ayres riot has ended.

A genuine case of leprosy is reported in New York.

Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, has returned to Australia.

A recount of the census in St. Paul and Minneapolis has been ordered.

Col. Markham seems to be in the lead in the gubernatorial race in California.

Judge S. S. Marshall, a prominent democratic politician of Illinois, is dead.

J. J. Casco, a census enumerator, of San Francisco, has been arrested for making false returns.

John D. Fiske, a prominent attorney of Fresno, was shot and instantly killed at Saturday by Joseph L. Stillman.

One feature of Prescott people is very noticeable to all visitors. Even the poorest of them live high—about 5,000 feet above sea level.

Tamagno, the great tenor, received $50,000 for his American trip. Of this amount he saved and carried back home with him $47,500.

Governor Ross, of Texas, does not approve of the proposed boycott of northern goods in retaliation for the passage of the federal election bill.

Nathaniel F. Locke, father of the late D. P. Locke, better known as "Petroleum V. Nasby," died at Cleveland on Friday at the advanced age of 97 years.

An opinion from Judge John Haynes to the effect that county treasurers are eligible to re-election. Under this opinion Maricopa county's treasurer has decided to become a candidate to succeed himself.

James Mooney, the dynamite man, was drowned in the surf near New York while bathing on Sunday last. He was a man of fine education, and at one time was secretary of the Irish National League.

Chauncey M. Depew has been seeing the Queen of England. It is rumored that he did not "see the queen" out west on his last trip before he went abroad. Men have lost by "seeing the queen" out there.

The Florence Enterprise says that Hon. A. J. Doran, of Florence, is spoken of as the republican candidate for delegate to congress. Mr. Doran served a term in the territorial legislature with credit and honor to himself and his constituency.

On returning from the army General Grierson remarked to a newspaper reporter in Los Angeles: "I have been promoted, you know—promoted to the position of an American citizen. There is no dignity in the world that excels it; don't you ever forget that, my boy."

Congress is engaged in the preparation of an anti-lottery bill which it is thought will knock the business out. It provides for the refusal of the use of the mails to papers advertising lottery schemes, also for all letters or communications addressed to lottery companies or their agents.

Mrs. Frank Leslie is kind enough to the newspaper profession to say that if she should ever marry again, she would give her heart and her hand to a journalist. There is not a journalist in America or Europe who would not be honored by marrying such a gifted and noble woman.

The Prospector says a movement is on foot to get the control of the territorial republican central committee in Tombstone. That a change is necessary all republicans seem to agree and it matters little where it goes to provided the new officers of the committee are men of sound pronounced republicanism, that there will be no danger of their bolting the ticket as was done two years ago.

The efforts of democrats to create republican dissatisfaction with the action of the county central committee in appointing delegates to
